FRIENDS OF CANDIDATES MAKING FRENZIED LAST MINUTE DRIVES FOR VOTES IN TUESDAY ELECTION

CONTESTS IN COUNTY MAKE HOT FINISH FOR CAMPAIGN

ROLPH ASSURED BIG VOTE IN SAN MATEO COUNTY

Indications Point to Election of Mrs. Kneese and Sheriff McGrath with Big Majorities; Congressman Free Sure Of Election; Interest in Coroner Fight

During the past week, and with the near approach of election day, interest in the election of county, state and district officers is becoming a fever heat, particularly in and about the county seat, where a great part of the county fight is being waged. While many of the county officers are running without opposition, there are fights in several of the important offices of the county, and campaigns for these positions have been waged during the past few weeks with utmost vigor.

For the state offices the Democrats seem to be in perfect agreement, all being unopposed except for the office of Attorney General in which J. W. Erlich is contesting the position with the incumbent U. S. Webb. Both of these men also appear on the Republican ballot. The candidates for the other offices on the Democratic ballot are: for governor, Milton K. Young; for Lieutenant governor, Martin I. Welsh; secreatry or state, William Maddux; controller, Henry E. Harwood; treasurer, William B. Shearer.

On the Republican ticket, however, the matter is different. For the office of governor there are five contestants; C. C. Young, the incumbant, Milton K. Young, who is also on the Democratic ballot; Buron Fitts, district attorney of Los Angeles; Clarn Shortridge Folts; and Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco.

Five candidates also are seeking the office of lieutenant governor. They are Frank F. Merriman, Talent Tubbs, Herschel L. Carnahan, Harry A. Chamberlain, and William Ivenhoe Kinsley.

For secretary of state there are three candidates; Donald J. Bruce; M. Len Hutchins, and Frank C. Jordan, the incumbant. The office of controller also has three contestants; Ray L. Riley, the incumbant, Paul Collins and C. J. Rambo.

Four men are seeking the Republican nomination for state treasurer. Tehy are Frank J. Smith, William E. Smith, Charles G. Johnson and Augustus G. Johnson. For the nomination for attorney general the candidates are Charles A. Son, U. S. Webb, J. W. Erlich and Frank M. Smith.

Aside from the campaign for governor there has been no very active campaign made by any of the seekers of state offices in this county. The campaign for governor, however on the Republican ticket has been very warm but quite one sided. San Mateo county is preponderantly for Rolph, and while supporters of the other candidates, particularly Governor Young, have been active, it has been their hope to win as many votes from the Rolph majority as possible, rather than any hope of carrying the county.

More interest centers here in the campaigns for county officers, particularly those of county clerk, sheriff, coroner, treasurer, and county engineer.

For the office of county clerk there are two candidates, the incumbant, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Kneese, and Elmore B. Hinman. The campaign for this office has been waged with considerable arimony and abuse on the part of supporters of Hinman, an attitude which has not been shared by the incumbant. Mrs. Kneese has been county clerk for the past 12 years, and during that time has made an exceptional record for efficiency, courtesy and ability. Her campaign has been made solely on this record and without personal reference to her opponent. This attitude on the part of Mrs. Kneese contrasted with that of the persons opposing her has won her many friends, and will assist materially in building up the big majority at the polls of which she is already assured.

In the campaign for coroner, while a strong fight has been made by both candidates, the campaign has been refreshingly free from abuse or personalities. Both Dr. J. C. McGovern, the incumbant, and his opponent William Crosby, Burlingame undertaker, have showed themselves to be gentlemen, and have conducted high class clean campaigns. Or rather, both gentlemen, have allowed campaigns to be made by their friends. Strong organizations are backing both candidates for this office, and while both candidates are taking a comparitively passive part in the campaign, a strong campaign is being made in favor of both.

The campaign for the office of sheriff has proved interesting but not particularly exciting, for there appears to be little doubt of the outcome. Sheriff McGrath is one of the best-known and most popular men in the county, and will, it is predicted, receive one of the biggest votes ever given a candidate for sheriff in San Mateo county. He is being opposed in the election by Charles H. Lorton, well-known businessman of Burlingame. Lorton in spite of having many friends, and being well-liked around his home town, has not sufficently strong organization to meet that of the popular sheriff. The other contestant for the sheriff's office is Thomas Furman, deposed chief of police of Menlo Park.

For the office of county engineer a three sided fight is being made between George A. Kneese, the incumbant, James S. James, and Willis G. Frost. Considerable interest also centers about this campaign as all three candidates are well-known and strong contenders for the office. Although all three are conceeded to be engineers of ability and are all well fitted to fill the office which they seek, it is not likely that the election will bring about any change in the office. The incumbant in a contest of this type where all things are equal has the advantage of being known and of having a record in the office which he seeks.

County Engineer Kneese has served the county efficiently and well for tour terms, and has built up an organization of competant and skillful engineers. He is thoroughly familiar with the county and the work of every municipality and subdivision. James S. James, was for a number of years city engineer of San Mateo, and Frost is a practicing engineer in this city. Both are men of undoublted ability.

The only other contested county office is that of treasurer. For this office there are two candidates, Mrs. Grace Cooper, the incumbant, and Harry Jenkins, of San Mateo. Mrs. Cooper has filled the office of treasurer for one term, having been elected in 1926 when the late P. P. Chamberlain declined to run for the office which he had held for more than 40 years. Prior to her election she had been deputy for three years under her predecessor. During her time in office the business of the county has been enormously increased, and great ability has been shown by Mrs. Cooper in keeping abreast of the increasing tide of county finances. Her opponent is a well-known business man of San Mateo.

The other officers of the county will be re-elected without opposition. They are District Attorney Franklin Swart, Recorder T. C. Rice, Assessor D. P. Flynn, Superintendent of Schools Pansy Jewett Abbott, Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney, Justice of the Peace (3rd township) Edward I McAuliffe, and Constable (3rd township) F. B .Grill.

In the fight for congress, the incumbant is already conceeded an easy winner. Free has served this district in congress for the past 10 years, and has been a hard worker for this district, securing much important legislation. His chief contender for the office is Emmet Rittenhouse, of Santa Cruz, whose stand on limitation of immergration is winning him many friends. Another contender for the office is Col. Scott Smith, a resident of Menlo Park.

Polls will be opened for the election on Tuesday at 6 o'clock in the morning and will remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening. The following election officers have been designated by County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese to conduct the election in their respective precincts:

THE ELECTION

EDITORIAL

In less than one week now the people of San Mateo county and of California will express themselves in the one way recognized by a democracy as to whom they will have as their public servants. During the past few weeks there has been heard a great deal of noise and bombast. Accusations have been made and thrown about quite as freely and with as little consideration as confetti on a New Year's Eve. Such disregard for the rights and feelings of others; disregard for the common courtesies which would receive universal condemnation at other times seems characteristic of elections in this democratic country. Characteristic also of elections here appears to be the fact that the people are seldom, if ever fooled by the verbose enunciations and caluminations by which small calibre aspirants seek to obtain large paying positions.

When the noise and smoke of battle have cleared it will be found that the government of our county and state are in competent hands, and that the voice of the people, if not exactly the voice of God, is at least an expression of common sense. A fact a little surprising considering the beclouded issues from which they must draw their conclusions.

Perhaps to the people of this county, the greatest amount of interest centers in the fight for the office of county clerk. This is perhaps because the office is one of the most important in the county government, and one to which most care should be given in selecting an officer to fill it. For another thing interest has been created in this office by the very manner in which the present county clerk has been attacked in the present campaign.

The Times-Gazette, interested in seeing San Mateo county in the hands of the best officers possible to obtain for it, has consistently supported Mrs. Kneese, the incumbent county clerk. It has done so because we know her to be one of the most efficient officers in the official family of this county today. In supporting Mrs. Kneese, however, the Times-Gazette has made no statement which could be considered as derogatory to her opponent in this campaign. Nor has Mrs. Kneese, personally, nor through her friends made any statements calculated to injure the reputation or wound the feelings of Mr. Hinman, her opponent for the office.

On the other hand the campaign against her has been waged with bitterness and accusation. Mrs. Kneese has a record upon which she can stand with pride, and has not been found in need of the lower type of campaigning which makes use of personalities.

This fact alone, is enough to win the favor of all thinking voters. What the county needs is efficiency in office, not efficiency in calumination and inuendo.

Mrs. Kneese has administered the office of county clerk in a manner which has won for her the unqualified endorsement of the San Mateo County Bar Association, a personal endorsement by Judge George H. Buck, and the recommendation of more than 200 San Francisco attorneys, whose business makes them frequent visitors to the office of the county clerk. In addition to this Mrs. Kneese has the friendship or endorsement of every newspaper printed in San Mateo county.

These are facts, and added to the splendid record which Mrs. Kneese has made for efficiency, courtesy, and ability in office have won her the friendship of the county and of its citizens.

City Float Wins Approval In Harbor Day Celebration

Float Shows Harbor Development On Bay Shore In San Mateo County; Attractas Attention of Thousands Of Visitors

One of the big features of the Harbor Day parade in San Francisco yesterday, staged under the auspices of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, was the float of Redwood City calling attention to its harbor development. The float depicted the water front here, with its piers and other improvements and in the background was a group of large factories.

The float carried the words: "Harbor Development Beginning at Redwood City."

It was built by Mr. Doxsee, local artist and decorator, for the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. Following the parade it was placed on exhibition near the Ferry building, where it was admired by thousands of persons.

Mayor Daniel R. Stafford, City Manager E. A. Rolison and Howard I. Wood, secretary-manager of the local chamber of commerce, were among those from here who went up to San Francisco to join in the Harbor Day celebration.

CROSBY CLUB WORKING FOR COMING ELECTION

San Mateo County "Crosby for Coroner Club" announced today that they have received endorsements for their candidate from many prominent personages connected in governmental affairs of this county, among whom are: Mayor C. A. Buck, Allen F. Hunt and R. L. Stone, councilman of Burlingame; Mayor W. H. Weeden of Menlo Park and Senator George C. Cleveland; Commander T. L. Chess of San Mateo Post, American Legion No. 82, and District Vice Commander Walter Gilliam of the American Legion. The club further states that it is the friends of William Crosby, who put him in this coroner's fight, and they have covered the county thoroughly in making his campaign.

55-YEAR-OLD PEAR

LATROBE, Pa., (UP)—Mrs. Edward Braden, 73, owns a pear given to her by her father-in-law when she was 18 years old . The pear has been preserved by cloves and shows no sign that it bears its 55 years more than lightly.

DRAMATIC READINGS TO BE GIVEN AT HI SCHOOL

A reading of the much discussed play, "Green Pastures," will be given next Wednesday evening at Room 31 in the Sequoia high school building by Mr. van Patten of the English department at the high school. It will start at 9:30. This will be the first of a series of readings of plays of unusual interest to theatre goers to be given by Mr. van Patten under the auspices of the Sequoia night school. No charge will be made. The readings are to be followed by an informal discussion of plays. It is felt that such a forum can be made of great interest when the attendance is representative of the drama lovers of the community.

"Green Pastures," written by Walter Connelly, was awarded the Pulitzer prize for the best play this year. It is a play which carries over the ideas of Noah Bradford's stories of the southern negroes and of their religious beliefs—a dramatization of the negro's idea of creation.

Weisgerber Out Of Assembly Race

A statement issued this week by Oscar Weisgerber, formerly city manager of San Mateo, and whose name appears on the ballot of the Republican primary election as a candidate for theoffice of assemblyman for this district, confirms reports which have been current for some weeks of his withdrawal for the race fro that office.

Weisgerber states:

To the Republicans of San Mateo County:

I desire to inform my friends in San Mateo county that I am withdrawing my candidacy and will make no campaign for the office of Assemblyman from this district.

Since my nomination papers were filed important business connections have been made which will require my removal to another part of the State. I have therefore sold my property in San Mateo and will no langer a resident or citizen of San Mateo County.

Oscar Weisgerber

Weisgerber was a candidate opposing Harry Parkman, the incumbant. His withdrawal from the campaign leaves the office to Parkman without contest.

County Engineer Gains Popularity

With San Mateo county's intensive political campaign fast nearing the primary next Tuesday, County Surveyor George A. Kneese, seeking reelection, is gaining strength so rapidly that his re-election in the primary is being conceded even in the camps of the opposition. Not content with mere victory, however, his thousands of friends and supporters throughout the county are planning to give him an overwhelming majority.

Perhaps no official of San Mateo county has had greater opportunity to come directly into contact with the taxpayers and learn at firsthand their needs and the necessity of meeting those needs economically. In every city and community of the county the county surveyor has made direct contacts with the people through the many programs of public improvements he has put across successfully for them.

The efficient manner in which he has handled these improvements and the economies effected in their construction have made County Surveyor Kneese the great throng of friends who are out this week working to bring him back to office so that there may be no change in the present success and popularity of the county surveyor's office.

In speaking of the whole-hearted suport which has come to him voluntarily from every section of the county, Mr. Kneese says; "It is highly gratifying to find my friends so eagar to return me to the office of county surveyor. Nothing can be more touching than loyalty such as this at a time when it really means something."

I deeply appreciate the confidence in my administration shown in every part of the county. Conscientious service to the taxpayers of San Mateo county has ever been my goal, and I believe, judging from the great response to my candidacy, that I have achieved some degree of success.

"Twelve years ago I assumed the office of County Surveyor and since that time the growth of the county has been nothing short of remarkable. Today we stand far ahead of many of our neighbors, and the United States government has paid us the tribute of being the most progressive municipality in the state. It makes me proud to feel that this should all happen during my administration; I feel that I have had a constructive part.

"We have great plans for San Mateo county's future, and I might say that they are not merely political promises, as my past record will bear out. I ask only that you consider achievement when you go to the polls next Tuesday, disregarding ballyho and smoke-screen claims of those who are unable to find any issue, but who are hungry for public office. Don't permit misrepresentations to mislead you, just compare the records of those asking your support, and I feel confident you will endorse my administration.

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN HOME BY REDWOOD CITY WOMAN

Mrs. F. K. Towne Finds Man Crouched In Closet of Home On Edgewood Road Wednesday Morning; Police Nab Man In Bushes of Creek; Confesses Burglary

A bold attempt at daylight burglary was frustrated Wednesday morning when Mrs. F. K. Towne was aroused by the sound of someone in her house on Edgewood road. Mrs. Towne was feeling ill and was lying on a couch in her home. She heard a noise, but thinking that it might be one of her sons who had come home for something, paid no attention. Later the noise was repeated as if someone were moving about in her bedroom.

Mrs. Towne went to the bedroom, and seeing nothing, went to the window to look out into the yard. As she turned from the window, she saw a man crouched in the closet watching her.

Seeing that he had been noticed, the man shouted for her to keep quiet, saying that he was a deputy sheriff. Mrs. Towne ran out, however, and shouted for help. As she ran out of the front door, the man made his escape from the rear door of the house and ran down into the creek which forms the rear boundary of the Towne property.

Roy Hohberger, who happened to be passing, heard Mrs. Towne shout for help and ran to her assistance. The police were summonded, and with Kendall Towne, the son, began a search of the creek. Later a man answering to the description of the man wanted was found in the bushes along the creek. He was arrested by Officers Mengels and Douglass.

At the jail the arrested man admitted having been the man discovered by Mrs. Towne. He gave his name as Christie Witzel, and stated that he was 17, and a baker's helper. He was on his way north from Los Angeles, he stated. Witzel has been charged with burglary, and his past record is being sought by the office of Sheriff J. J. McGrath.

MIKE TIMLER WINS McGRATH GOLF TROPHY

Redwood's fiirst miniature golf tournament came to a close Sunday night at Bob's Miniature Golf Course, before a gallery of some three hundred people.

Mike Timler won the McGrath trophy for the first flight after beating G. F. Ball on the nineteenth hole and then defeating E. Dower, 3-2, after shooting the most spectacular golf the course has seen. In fact the final round was so thrilling that from the size of the gallery one would think that Bobby Jones himself was in town.

The second flight was won by Arthur Lucier, who won his match from Steve Ferraro 4 and 3.

Harry Brown carried away the honors in the third flight by shooting emarkable golf in a close match with Ray Graetz. Brown made the gallery gasp by sinking unlieveable long putts.

The ladies honors went to Mrs. Gallagher, who won first place from Mrs. Williams. Mrs. Gallagher won over a field of eight ladies.

Another close match was the contest for the boys' flight, between Robert Andreini and Chester Haas, the latter winning one up, after a match that showed many of the older folks how the game should be played.

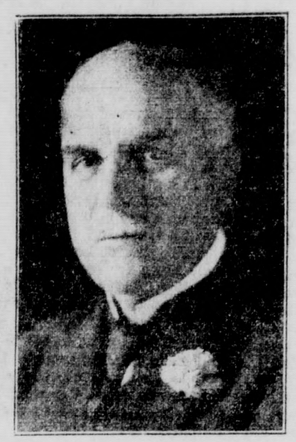
Rolph for Governor



Mayor James Rolph, Jr.

The voters of San Mateo county are urged to cast their ballot on Tuesday next for James Rolph, Jr., for the reason that he has done so much for the peninsula during his years as mayor of San Francisco. No one has done more. If elected governor San Mateo county will have a friend at Sacramento. His plurality in this section should be overwhelming.

Mayor Rolph and his administration have made possible the construction of the Bayshore Highway from San Francisco to San Jose. This was initially started as a Joint Highway District between the two counties, the iniative coming from San Francisco, but was later abandoned and the necessary legislation obtained from Sacramento which permitted San Francisco county to spend its its own money outside of the county for highway construction.

Rolph gave to the Highway Commission of the State of California $500,000 to start the first unit of the Bayshore Highway in San Mateo county between South San Francisco and Burlingame. Due to this unselfish act on the part of San Francisco and the realization by the State Highway Department of the necessity for this highway, that Department has since completed the various units, until now we have a completed road between San Francisco's busines center and San Mateo City, with the second contract rapidly nearing completion between San Mateo and Redwood City, with all the preliminary plans and data completed for a continuation of this road to San Jose. This road, in its partially completed condition, has been a wonderful asset to San Mateo county as a relief to road congestion and a stimulation of business activities. Also, subdivisions have sprung up along the road and factories have located adjacent thereto. Ultimately, when this road has been completed for its full length and width through San Francisco, San Mateo, and Santa Clara counties, it will prove to be one of the greatest assets for the rapid movement of traffic and freight that any county in northern California possesses.

Another project which is of benefit to San Mateo county and which Mayor Rolph has advocated is the extension of Junipero Serra Boulevard from San Francisco to Burlingame. Here again, the city and county of San Francisco did all the pioneer work without cost, and assessed itself for 85 per cent of the total cost of the work, although the highway in its entirety will be in San Mateo county. This highway when completed will cost in excess of two million dollars and will bring in a portion of San Mateo county, which now is in acreage but which will eventually be of the highest type residential and acreage property, thus adding tremendously to the taxing possibilities of the county. The first unit of this work has been completed and opened, and the old road less than 20 feet in width has been replaced by a modern highway of level gradient 60 feet in width and over a mile in length. The second unit is about to be undetaken, and will extend from School street to Colma. The necessary detailed plans and specifications are completed and active work should be under way on this in the near future.

Mayor Rolph was instrumental in getting the bottleneck removed from in front of the cemetery property in San Mateo county, and here again the citizens of San Francisco dug down in their pockets and paid a large portion of the cost of this construction, although all work was done in San Mateo county and, of course, for that reason, was of great benefit to San Mateo county.

At the present time, through the efforts of Mayor Rolph, a Joint Highway District has been organized for the construction and completion of the Ocean Shore boulevard, which will skirt the ocean along approximately the line of the old ocean shore railway from Sharp's Park eventually to and connecting with Santa Cruz. This road also is entirely within San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties. However, San Francisco county has agreed to assess and tax itself for 55 per cent of the cost of this entire improvement. The first unit of the construction is now under way which will make a connection to and a safe outlet and inlet for the Half-moonBay territory of San Mateo county.

In his declaration of policy after the Spring Valley properties in San Mateo county had been acquired, Mayor Rolph stated that not only would they be reserved for water purposes for San Francisco and San Mateo counties, but, in addition, would become a great game preserve, thus making San Mateo county a gift which will long be remembered by its inhabitants.

Mayor Rolph has always lent his energy and the full force of his entire administration to any improvements that had to do with the betterment of living conditions in San Mateo county. He has been active in seeing to it that the peninsula highway has been widened and paved, and is at present joining with the Highway Commission in working out a plan for the proposed widening of Mission street from Daly City to Colma—another bottleneck in highway improvements and all in San Mateo county. Here again San Francisco will be called upon to spend a large sum of money, which it will do, as it has done in the past, realizing that it must join with and help in the development of the peninsula area.

At the present time, the Park Commissioners of Mayor Rolph's administration are developing an 18-hole golf course at Sharp's Park on the ocean front in San Mateo county, and will have expended in excess of $150,000 before it is completed and ready for use. While the golf course will in a way serve some of the people in San Francisco, it will add another wonderful golf course to those already constructed in San Mateo county, and it is felt that it will be largely used by San Mateo county people.

Another very wonderful project sponsored by Mayor Rolph and his administration was the construction of the Skyline boulevard from San Francisco to Woodwardia. This was originally started as a Joint Highway District project and then later, at a meeting held in San Francisco, it was incorporated in and made a part of the statewide bond issue for highway construction. This road is one of the most picturesque and beautiful in the northern part of the state, as it gives a constant vista of bay and ocean for a large portion of its length, thereafter running through a virgin redwood forest for which San Mateo county is famous. As stated before, this road was originally started by Mayor Rolph and his administration and through his efforts was made a part of the highway system of the State of California. Here again, San Francisco county contributed the major portion of the initial cost necessary before it was taken over by the state.

Arthur M. Free

By D. E. O'KEEFE

While it is true that Congressman Arthur M. Free will be re-elected with his usual big vote he should not be overlooked in the campaign but should be supported more strongly than ever for he is needed in congress to support mammoth measures that are coming up at the next session. The district needs his services, his experience and his ability. The Sunnyvale dirigible base question will come before congress next session and as Mr. Free has sponsored this measure, he will be in a position to do better work for it than a new man could possibly do. For this reason alone Mr. Free should be sent back to congress. The establishing of the base at Sunnyvale means a great deal to the peninsula and to northern California. The south is working hard for it. Free has measured up to the congressman from Los Angeles in point of ability and tact and has fought them to a standstill in this matter and will ultimately win if retained in his position. A vote therefore for Free is practically a vote for the Sunnyvale dirigible base.

Vote for Free.

Sheriff Jim McGrath

Some people seem naturally to require a Mr. before their names; others we address as James; then there is the class that seems to be known to everybody far and wide as Jim. In this latter class belongs the genial sheriff of San Mateo county.

Now just the fact that his parents saw fit to name him James has nothing to do with the present election. But the fact that Sheriff Jim is possessed of just that type of personality which has made him known from Daly City to the San Francisquito creek and from Cooley's landing to New Year's Island, as Jim, is going to prove a very great factor when the votes are counted next Tuesday night. For the sheriff of San Mateo county is known by his first name by all his friends, and when it is understood that he is called Jim wherever he goes throughout the county, the true meaning of the fact becomes clear.

Sheriff Jim is up for re-election on Tuesday. At that time, it is the prediction of the Times-Gazette, he will receive the largest vote ever given a sheriff in this county. This is the result of personality.

But there is also another side to the matter. In addition to his ability to make friends, Sheriff McGrath is possessed of an ability to administer his office with efficiency and courage. He has made himself a record for maintaining one of the best conducted offices in the state.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

Sally Todd and Lois Montgomery leave home to seek their fortunes in New York.

Sally's brother, Bert, who is in love with Lois, follows them.

Lois meets a young man whom she knew when she was a wealthy woman's secretary.

He and a chap named FRISBY show her and Sally little attention, but Lois's thoughts are chiefly on the problems of existence.

CHAPTER 7

God of Chance

Lois and Sally set forth early the following morning on their apparently hopeless search for employment. The casual observer couldn't have guessed that they hadn't breakfasted. They looked fresh and healthy and chic.

At the corner they parted, lingering, laughing a bit to hide their anxiety.

"So long!" said Sally. "If the worst comes to the worst, I'll pretend to faint from hunger in a film magnate's office, and he'll be so impressed with my dramatic ability that I'll get a job immediately."

"And I," laughed Lois, "will persuade a restaurant proprietor to put me in the show-window and feed me a meal—any sort of a meal. The way I would dig into it would be the finest advertisement for his chow that anyone could devise."

The morning proved disappointing, as usual. Near noon she found herself wandering disconsolately along Park Avenue, because she had no particular place to go, and because she liked the shops in that section. She stopped before one of the shops, attracted by a window display of striking simplicity. A quaintly carved casket, lined with mother-of-pearl, was set in the center of a piece of old brocade. Both might have come out of a palace of the Borgias. Lois's love of exquisite and subtly blended color flamed at the sight of those two beautiful objects. It was a long time before she looked up and saw a discreet gold scroll on the plate-glass door: "Draper and Dunleigh, Interior Decorators." And, down in one corner, as if thrust there most casually, a tiny white card that read: "Shopper Wanted."

Lois hadn't a notion what a "shopper" was, but she had an intense desire to enter the shop, somehow, and she certainly couldn't go in as a prospective customer. She opened the door, recklessly determined to proclaim herself a "shopper"—whatever that was.

A white-haired woman whose appearance was in keeping with the show-window approached her. Except that she wore no hat, Lois would have taken her for a wealthy purchaser. She wore a black gown of striking simplicity, unrelieved except for a necklace of beads in an odd peacock-blue color. She smiled upon Lois, and Lois, feeling horribly certain that her appearance was against her, faltered:

"I saw the sign.....I..... wish to apply for the position."

"As shopper?" asked the lady. "Have you had experience?"

Lois shooked her head. "I don't," she confessed frankly, "even know what a shopper is supposed to do."

A ripping laugh greeted this, but the woman was looking at Lois shrewdly.

"Then why have you applied for the job?"

"Because I need it," said Lois. "I need it awfully."

"I believe you do," agreed the woman gravely. "You look a little—desperate."

Lois smiled at that. Two more days would see her and Sally on the sidewalk. She wondered how long one could go without food before one was exhausted and what they did with people who fainted from hunger on the street.

"I am Mrs. Dunleigh," the white-haired lady was saying. "My partner Miss Draper, allows me carte blanche in the matter of engaging assistants. I'm going to try you out. Shopping my child, is nothing more or less than leg work, with a bit of intelligence. For instance, if I send you out with a sample of Nattier blue velvet, don't come back with a bolt of emerald green and tell me that you havn't been able to match the other. Shopping for an interior decorating concern requires strength, patience, persistence, and obedience. I do the head work and you furnish the legs. Think you can do it?"

Lois agreed eagerly.

"All right, we'll start," said the lady briskly. Her face and figure and air were young, in spite of her white hair. "You'd better have your lunch first, however."

Lois hesitated, confused. She hadn't the price of a lunch, but, perhaps, it would be well not to speak of that. The keen gray eyes saw her hesitation.

"Poor kiddie!" Mrs. Dunleigh went to a desk that looked like a museum piece, picked up a card, and scrawled something across it. She handed the bit of pasteboard to Lois. "The Cheshire Cat Tea-Shop is just around the corner. Give that card to the manageress. She'll feed you, and charge it to me."

"You're very kind," faltered Lois, "but I— —"

"Don't worry. I'll take it out of your first week's salary. By the way, we pay six dollars to start.... And what's your name?"

Lois went out, clutching the precious card. She scurried to the tea-shop, where she had a lunch that made her think she was in Paradise. But she ordered carefully, for she knew how many meals would have to come out of six dollars each week, not to mention a roof over her and Sally's head, if Sally failed to land a job.

Sally's tenacity with regard to the films worried Lois, but she was too loyal to be really critical. If it ever occurred to her that Sally, to tide them over this rough spot, might lay aside her ambition for a time and get into something a little easier, just to earn a few dollars, she quickly put away the thought. She knew that persistency was suppose to weigh in the long run, but, looking at the situation by and large, she herself hadn't taken a job as a waitress, because she visualized it as her life's work. It had been a makeshift that hadn't really hurt her. She looked at the thing philosophically and hoped that she'd never have to do anything that hurt her more.

She reported so promptly after lunch that Mrs. Dunleigh remarked, with a laugh:

"You must have swallowed your food whole. 'Ware indigestion, my child. It's ruined more careers than dissipation."

Lois was sent out to a wholesale house that afternoon with a bunch of samples of materials that she was to match in color and design. She also was instructed to stop at a cabinetmakers and leave him some written directions. There was a wrapped parcel to be delivered elsewhere. She had quite a list of errands noted in a small, leather-covered book given her for the purpose. She went to work with zest, filled her commissions, and acquaint herself with credit. At the end of the day ,there was no doubt about the job, small as it was, being hers.

She said wistfully to Mrs. Dunleigh, as that lady adjusted a very becoming little black hat and prepared to call it a day: "Is there a chance to work up to something better?"

"Be an interior decorator yourself, you mean?.....Of course. It takes experience and study. And taste, naturally—a color sense."

"My father was an artist," murmured Lois. "He was said to have great talent."

"Well, if you've inherited it—the love and the use of harmony——it will help you in this business." She paused and laughed:: "I know of one shopper who has become a partner in one of the best-known places in town.....She is standing right here before you!"

Lois went home elated. Sally wasn't there. She came in later, flushed and sparkling-eyed ,in spite of the fact that she had to report complete failure in her job-hunt. Lois didn't suspect, and Sally was averse to telling her, that she had lunched and motored with Martin Frisby that afternoon.

VOTE FOR WILLIAM CROSBY

For CORONER

Endorsed by Mrs. W. A. Brooke, Prominent Woman of San Mateo County

STATEMENT BY MRS. W. A. BROOKE

In the political announcement of J. C. McGovern for Coroner, in the San Mateo Times, June 13th, the following statement appeared, after mentioning that he SUCCEEDED in office the late Dr. W. A. Brooke:

"He (McGovern) has brought harmony to administration of the office. Deputies have been appointed in all parts of the county and conflicts over jurisdiction abolished."

I keenly resent this statement and the inference it conveys, especially coming from one, who by POLITICAL APPOINTMENT immediately secured the office on the death of my husband, Dr. Brooke, and who has profited by filling out three years of Dr. Brooke's unexpired term.

As I was in close touch with the administration of Dr. Brooke, during the many years he served as Coroner and Public Administrator of San Mateo County, I can state positively there never was lack of harmony in his office, nor were there any conflicts over jurisdiction of the deputies.

Dr. Brooke was always fair and just, capable and conscientious in administering the duties of his office, and I am proud of the splendid record he left as a public official—in justice to him, I make the above statement.

I ENDORSE THE CANDIDACY OF WILLIAM CROSBY FOR CORONER AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR.

(Signed) MRS. W. A. BROOKE.
Widow of late Coroner W. A. Brooke.

Largest Map To Cost $2,000,000 In Fifty Years

WELLESLEY, Mass., Aug. 21 (UP)—The largest map in the world which will measure 63 feet from East to West and 46 feet from North to South, is being constructed here.

Conceived by Roger W. Babson, noted statistician, the work, a relief outline of the United States and Canada, was begun about five years ago. It is estimated that 50 more years will be required for its completion, and approximately $2,000,000 will be expended on the project.

The map will be 10 times larger than that of the Pan-American Union which the government possesses. The latter is flat, whereas that being pieced together here will be of spherical form in exact ratio to the earth's curve.

The horizontal scale will be one inch for four miles. The vertical scale will be one foot for four miles, insuring that altitudes and depressions depicted will stand out prominently.

A gallery, 15 feet high, will encircle the map. Viewed from this, any section reproduced on the work will appear just about as it would if actually seen from an airplane at a height of 12 miles.

Not only will the topography of the United States and Canada be imitated with precision, but by elaborate color schemes, even landscape effects will be simulated as far as possible.

Every river, mountain, railroad line, city, and smaller community of the two countires will be traceable from the gallery.

The Painted Desert of Arizona, the Everglades of Florida, California's orange groves, the pasture land north of the Rio Grande, and the ice-bound regions of Northern Canada will be delineated.

The entire work will conform to data being furnished by the United States topographical survey.

CONGRESS

He has earned your support

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Pres Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug 20 (UP)—Rumblings of the final offensive on California's political battle front were being heard today as primary election day appeared just over the horizon.

This week the oratorical "Big Berthas" boomed forth liquid fire, T. N. T., barbed-wire and Rough-on-Rats. Candidates marshaled their forces for last instructions before going over the top. A few more days and it will all be over.

The hottest developments in the week's campaigning were as follows:

1. Accusation by Governor Young's forces that Fitts and Rolph had entered a conspiracy to defeat the governor; that the two candidates are using identical campaign literature, and that letters are being sent to corporations promising tax reductions if Governor Young is defeated.

2. Response by Mayor Rolph that the charge is a "series of unqualified lies," and a challenge to Irving Martin, Northern California campaign manager, and Clem Whitaker, Young's publicity director, "to produce one iota of evidence to prove that I am working with Fitts to defeat Young."

Taxation stood out far ahead as the leading controversial issue of the campaign as the final week of radio and stump speaking neared.

"Governor Young muddled up the tax laws," charged Fitts. "If you are paying $100 taxes on your home, it is four times as much as the largest oil company in California paid in state taxes last year."

"That's an unfair statement," retorted Governor Young. "He's comparing local taxes and state taxes. Standard Oil paid more than $4,572,000 on its real and personal property last year, in the same manner as the home owner."

"Oh, yes?" interrupted Mayor Rolph, "Well maybe you'll tell us how much money was paid your campaign fund by Standard, Union, Shell, Associated and Richfield oil companies, all of whom got big tax reductions?"

And the dispute ends with all hands cordially calling each other liars, and appealing to the voter with a sense of justice and fairplay to support the candidate who tells the truth.

At the present time it appears as if the victor may not be the candidate who has the most constructive platform; to the contrary, it may be he who can show that the other fellow is the biggest liar.

Oh-hum! Just a few more days to August 26, and then we'll know all about it.

Arthur Free Aids Development Here

Congressman Arthur M. Free, who is seeking re-election to office this year had done much for this section. He has had the interests of the peninsula in view at all times and has secured much needed legislation for this district.

His tireless work in behalf of the agriculturists is well known. What he has done for them can be expressed only in millions of dollars. He has done much to promote green fruit shipments, pre-cooling and refrigeration. His Herculean labors in connection with the tariff have brought protection to the producers of 52 agricultural products, protection which, for the growers of many of these articles, meant the difference between ruin and prosperity.

WON BRAKEWATER COIN

One of his great achievements was the securing of an appropriation of $610,000 for the construction of a brakewater at Monterey, an achievement possible only because of his tireless years of effort in behalf of this project.

When the Mediterranean fruit fly was discovered in Florida, Congressman Free instantly leaped into the fight to stamp out this menace before it could threaten his own state.

What Congressman Arthur M. Free did during the battle over the navy dirigible base to secure its location in Sunnyvale is well known. His fight has apparently been successful. What he did toward securing the federal survey of the Port San Jose project is also well known.

Undertakers Endorse McGOVERN for CORONER

For the following reasons, we, the Undertakers of San Mateo County, are of the firm belief that an Undertaker should not hold the position of Coroner in any County:

(1) California has 46 Coroners who are Undertakers and it is a well-known and established fact that every one of these Coroners who are Undertakers, monopolize practically all the business coming out of their respective Coroners' Offices.

(2) With two possible exceptions, Dr. J. C. McGovern, is the only Coroner in the State of California who has had courage and fairness to distribute equally among every Undertaker, (including the candidate who is opposing him) all business arising in their respective districts.

(3) DR. J. C. McGOVERN, (WITH ONE EXCEPTION) IS THE ONLY CORONER IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, WHO HAS DEPUTIZED EVERY UNDERTAKER IN THE COUNTY, INCLUDING THE CANDIDATE WHO IS OPPOSING HIM, THEREBY MAKING THEM A PART OF THE CORONER'S OFFICE.

(4) Due to the equal distribution of the Deputy Coroners in San Mateo County, any emergency that may arise, day or night, in their respective districts, is adequately taken care of on a few moments notice.

(5) IF NO ONE UNDERTAKER HAS A MONOPOLY, RELATIVES OF THE DECEASED HAVE THEIR CHOICE OF ANY UNDERTAKER IN THE COUNTY, THEY ALL BEING DEPUTIES.

(6) Our faith in San Mateo County represents an investment of $250,000, subject to the usual taxes, which will be jeopardized if any one Undertaker is given a preference of any kind in the Coroner's office.

(7) With one exception, all the Undertakers of San Mateo County, have lived in and paid taxes to the County of San Mateo for a period ranging from ten to sixty years.

For the above set of facts, We, the Undertakersers of San Mateo County, do unqualifiedly, endorse the retaining in office for Coroner of San Mateo County, Dr. J. C. McGovern.

HIGHLY EFFICIENT

...Yet Economical

Highly Efficient Administration of a sheriff's office is concerned principally with successful criminology.

Yet economy is one of the principal concerns of you who pay the bills in the form of taxation.

SHERIFF JAMES J. McGRATH submits this phase of his administration of the sheriff's office to you to impress that, while conducting the criminal and civil phases of his office with marked degree of success, he has not sacrificed your financial interests in doing so. Backed by public records Sheriff McGrath points out:...

"During the first year of my incumbency, which ended in 1928, the complete cost of operating the sheriff's office amounted to $45,640.

"The following year this was reduced by more than $3,000, a substantial saving on your behalf.

"In the current year the operating expense of the sheriff's office has been reduced to $37,827. In the three years of my administration I take pleasure in telling you that I have saved you nearly $8,000 without sacrificing efficiency in any departament.

"Even with this economy our office stands today as one of the foremost sheriff's offices in the State, enjoying the high esteem and complete confidence of every police department on the Pacific Coast.

"My greatest ambition will be always to serve you well."

MENLO PARK

Menlo Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters will give their annual street dance and carnival on tomorrow evening on Santa Cruz evenue. There will be all kinds of carnival features and a first class orchestra for dancing.

The play given in the grammar school auditorium last evening was largely attended and will be repeated this evening. The show is given by the St. Joseph Players for the benefit of the alumni fund of St. Joseph's school. The attendance this evening is going to be large. Admission fifty cents.

At a meeting of the city council held Monday evening H. F. Huesties was appointed a traffic officer with salary fixed at $100 a month. His duties will be to take care of the children at the grammar school on the highway. The school district will not participate in the payment of the salary, as that policy would be contrary to law.

John Partridge, who passed away at Sausalito during the week, was a former resident of Menlo Park. His father at one time owned a portion of what is known as Stanford Park. Partridge street in that section was named for the family. The deceased was for over forty years connected with the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Association in San Francisco.

The Menlo Service Club was organized Wednesday evening with a membership of 25. The organization is to take the place of the Menlo Exchange Club that disbanded some weeks ago.

Gorden Partee, one of Menlo's bright young men, has matriculated in St. Mary's college and will go there as a boarder when the institution opens. He is a foot ball player of ability and is certain to be heard from as a player when the college team wins fame and honor.

Mrs. Grace Cooper, candidate for county treasurer, which position she has filled for the past term with success, is sure to receive a big vote in Menlo Park. She come from a pioneer family of the county. Her brother, the late William Lawrence, was widely known in Menlo Park as was her father, the late W. H. Lawrence, for many years connected with the Spring Valley Water Company. Mrs. Cooper is sure of a mammoth vote here.

The engagement of Miss Mary Emma Flood and Theodore Ellis Stebbins was announced this week. The pretty young woman was born in Menlo Park and is the only daughter of the late James L. Flood and Mrs. Flood. The bride to be is a talented young woman, accomplished and an artist of more than ordinary ability. She is very charming and beloved by the people of Menlo Park who have known her since childhood. The fortunate young man is a graduate of Harvard worthy of the splendid women he has chosen to be his life partner.

Secretary of the Rolph for governor Club reports that more than 300 have signed the membership roll. The members are meeting regularly arranging to get the voters to the polls on August 26. Precinct workers have made arrangements to tabulate the names of the voters and everything is in readiness for the big event next Tuesday. The vote here for Rolph will be overwhelming.

Ed Gamon of the News went to the Rolph meeting at Palo Alto last Monday and reports that the popular mayor received an ovation. Gamon declares that Rolph will carry the college city.

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge is resting from his arduous labors in Washington at his estate here doing some intensive farming and/lulling among the flowers there admiring the beauty of nature. He won't find surcease of labor for all over the state demands are made upon him for his services as a speaker. In a few days he will start out to keep these engagements. Mr. Shortridge has been so loyal to his state and party that it looks at this time that he will have no opposition for his return to the senate in 1932. No senator has ever done more for the state and no man is deserving of recognition than Mr. Shortridge.

All the hot water you want —no waiting, no bother!

This instant hot water service saves 4 to 6 hours of your time each week

School bells end vacation days. Then comes additional cares for mothers — little faces to wash and clean clothes to put on. Perhaps a parting smudge by a four-legged friend adds another care.

No wonder that mothers today want their homes to have the many conveniences — like INSTANT HOT WATER, to wash away the trouble.

An abundant supply of hot water, instantly, saves your time and energy—by quickly dissolving dirt and grease, by making it easy to keep things sweet and fragrant.

No Need of Watching the Automatic Gas Water Heater

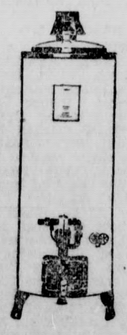
With the Automatic Gas Water Heater, a thermostat turns the gas on and off. It maintains the water temperature at 140 degrees day and night. At any moment one can have deep hot water for bathing, a basinful for shaving. No gas is wasted keeping the water hot, the water stays hot because the boiler is insulated.

This instant hot water service costs less than one-fifth of a cent per gallon—the lowest cost of any method of heating water in the home.

Special Summer Sale

Believe it or not—the P. G. and E. will completely install an Automatic Gas Water Heater for you as follows:

$10 allowance for your old water heater.



$5 down

Balance as low as $6 a month for 18 months.

Come into our office or a dealer's store and see the modern heaters. Or just telephone and our representative will call, inspect your present water heating equipment and make you an offer.

How old is your ICE BOX ?

Probably so old that it does not properly preserve either food or ice.

A new refrigerator . . . besides being greatly improved both in sanitation and beauty . . . will pay you back its original cost in a short time through saving in ice alone.

In gleaming white and pastel colorings . . . these new ice refrigerators sell in the low price range of $25 to $65 . . . easy terms and a liberal trade-in allowance on your old ice box. See your ice man today.

Only ICE does this: Keeps food fresh as well as cold . . . conserves all natural flavors and juices . . . keeps food pure through the constantly circulating washed air in your ice refrigerator.

Modern Improvements Transform the Ice Box

Ice refrigerators have "gone modern" in some very interesting ways, according to an executive of the National Association of Ice Industries.

"Not only has the once prosaic ice box' blossomed out into a scientific, smartly designed cabinet," says this executive, "but new features even more practical have been added to gladden the housewife's heart and lighten her day's work.

"The new model ice-refrigerators are equipped with automatic indicators—similar to motometers—which tell when it is time to re-ice. One style has doors operated with a foot control for convenience when approaching the refrigerator with both hands carrying food. Of course, in this model, the doors have regular handles, too.

"Many new ice refrigerators have grown well-turned legs that permit easy cleaning underneath the cabinet. Inside the refrigerators, smooth seamless linings with sounded corners and shelves of flat rust-proof wire make spoltesness easy to maintain.

"Charts on the doors of some new refrigerator models indicate the proper placements of fods for safe preservation—butter and milk just below the ice, hardy fruits and vegetables on the top shelf beside the ice compartment, and so on.

"One popular feature of the new models is the easily accessible drain pipe for quick removal and flushing. They are designed for free circulation of cold fresh air and their insulation is well tested and approved."

TRY TO RIDE "MIDNIGHT

DETROIT, (UP)—Michigan horsemen can test their ability to ride "Midnight" unconquered bucking horse of the entire West at the Michigan State Fair Stampede which begins Labor Day. No cowboy has yet stuck to him the 11 seconds required under the stampede rules. Last spring, Roy Cox, a Kansas cowboy, made a record for this horse-staying on three jumps longer than anyone else before he was thrown.

Stage All Set For Production Sunday Evening

With the addition of Teresa Sum Suden, well known operatic soprano, the quartette is complete for the 'Midsummer Night's Dream" production which Junius Cravens is staging as the annual benefit of the auxiliary board of the Stanford Convalescent Home at the Menlo Circus Club, Atherton, next Sunday evening, August 23.

Other members of the quartette are Doris Barr, contralto, Charles Bulotti, tenor and Austin Sperry, baritone. Miss Tum Suden replaces Edith Benjamin Soule, who withdrew upon the recent death of her father. The singers will provide incidental music during the production. Songs are based on the Mendelsshon music, which will be directed by Carol Weston.

Dances for the Shakespear fantasy are nearing perfection under the direction of Betty Hortz. These are to be stylized in form with an oriental motif. Louise Bird is the solo dancer. Others in the dance group are Marie Laraia, Consuelo Crowder, Peg Kirsten, Jole Merlo, Norma McAfee, Lois Foster, Wesleyia Tucker, Helen Eisner and Merel Nance.

Alan Blanchard, production manager for "Midsummer Night's Dream", has practically completed work on the new outdoor theatre at the Circus Club, designed by Cravens especially for the Shakespeare fantasy.

JAMES ROLPH, JR.

THIS MAN HAS HELPED SAN MATEO COUNTY

James Rolph, Jr. Has Done More Than Any Other Man to Advance the Interests of San Mateo County.

In the nineteen years of his faithful public service James Rolph, Jr. has fought for and sponsored these projects which have helped San Mateo County:——

1. The Bayshore Highway
   This road has linked San Mateo and San Francisco. More than 86,000 automobiles pass over it every Sunday. The Bayshore Highway has increased property values in San Mateo County.
2. Mills Field Airport
   Col. Charles Lindbergh recently characterized Mills Field as "one of the best airports he had ever seen."
3. South San Francisco Underpass
   Until Mayor Rolph stepped in, San Mateo was faced with the prospect of having one of the most dangerous grade crossings in the state. Today we have eliminated the danger by the underpass.
4. The Skyline Boulevard
   Another one of Rolph's accomlishments was the Skyline Boulevard which is one of the most scenic highways in the state.
5. Dirigible Base at Sunnyvale
   Millions of dollars will soon be spent on the air base at Sunnyvale. The entire Peninsula will benefit as a result.
6. The Bottleneck at Lawndale
   Rolph's efforts solved this problem which handicapped San Mateo County for many years.
7. The San Francisco Bay Bridge
   For many years James Rolph Jr. has been working silently on the bridge projects. He helped build the San Mateo-Hayward Bay bridge.
8. Golf Course at Sharp's Park
   Rolph's vision is building today a municipal golf course at Sharp's Park in San Mateo County. When completed it will be one of the finest courses in the state.

The next four years will be vitally progressive years for San Mateo County. We will want more highways. We will want waterfront development. We will want more water and power. We will need more flying fields and better transportation.

It is a certainty that we will have the assistance of James Rolph Jr. in these projects when he becomes governor. He helped us in the past, and he will help us in the future. The people of San Mateo appreciate what Rolph has done, and will cast an overwhelming majority for him on August 26.

A vote for James Rolph Jr. is a vote for the betterment of our county.

This advertisement is made possible by small contributions from a legion of friends who love James Rolph Jr. as a man and have confidence in him as a friend of San Mateo County.

County Ranks 11th In State Registration

Secretary of State's Figures Number County Voters As 32,306

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 21 (UP)—San Mateo county, with a total registration of 32,306, ranked 11th among the 58 counties of California in total registration for the August primary election.

This was announced here today by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, whose compilation showed that at the primary election in 1926 the county's registration was 23,189.

The Golden State registered a heavy gain in voting strength by this year's registration which, for the first time, went over the two-million mark, Jordan said. The exact figure was 2,187,474, as compared to 1,854,471 four years ago.

Voting precincts also increased from 8,282 in 1926 to 10,283 at the present time.

California still retains its ratio of four Republicans to one Democrat, the total for the 58 counties of the state, by party affiliation, being as follows.

Republican, 1,599,413; Democratic, 449,824; Prohibition, 12,304; Socialist, 10,620; declined to state, 114,940, and miscellaneous, 391.

Los Angeles, as usual, stood first in registration with a total of 824,886 voters, as compared ta 661,444 four years ago. San Francisco came next with 243,019 as against 220,893 in 1926, while Alameda ranked third, with 227,674 as compared with 198,265.

Alpine, California's tiniest county, registered 136 voters for the state primary—126 Republicans and 10 Democrats. At the primary election four years ago this county's total registration was only 86, of whom 71 actually cast their votes for governor.

Is it a l-o-n-g way to your Telephone?

Even the shortest of hallways seems too long, when the telephone's to be answered.

Why not have an extension telephone right where you most likely are?

In the bedroom, the sun porch, or the kitchen—wherever it will save the most steps.

An extension costs but a few cents a day. It is so convenient.
